WAS KNOWN AS ELOPERS FRIEND

LATE PARSON KEPT HOTEL FOR PURPOSE AND MARRIED
5,142 COUPLES.

INN WAS ON BOUNDARY

Only Had to Cross Hall To Be In Another State—Unique Weddings.

Bristol, Va., Oct. 7.—The Rev. Alfred Burroughs, the "Marrying Parson" of Bristol, is dead at the age of eighty-three years. Parson Burroughs resigned from the Baptist ministry twenty-five years ago in order to establish the "American Gretna Green."

He built and equipped a hotel for the exclusive use of runaway couples and he performed the marriage ceremony for 5,142 couples. Most of the couples came from states where the laws prohibited the marriage of persons under twenty-one years of age without parental consent.

Some years ago the Ministerial association of Bristol memorialized the Tennessee legislature to put a stop to the hundreds of "hasty and indecent marriages" performed annually at the Bristol mecca.

Keeps Matrimonial Hotel.

Parson Burroughs' hotel was designed expressly for the convenience of eloping couples. Every room in it is a bridal chamber. It stands squarely on the line between Virginia and Tennessee, which runs through Bristol, so that half of the hotel is in one state and half in another. Elopers from one of the two states had only to cross the hall to be within the jurisdiction of the other.

Burroughs performed marriages under every conceivable circumstance—in a carriage racing through the streets at night with the couple standing in the middle of a street car running along the boundary line, with hands clasped across the boundary line, the bridegroom in one state and the bride in another.

He had been in it long enough to marry the children of couples who first came to him. Fully ninety per cent of the couples he married were elopers. They represented many states—Virginia and West Virginia, Kentucky, the two Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, New York, New Jersey, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Illinois, and California.

Weeks Five Couples at Once.

He had been called upon by as many as five couples at one time, when one ceremony and one blessing answered for all. Only recently he married five couples at one time, and he had barely concluded this service when two more were ushered in.

All of the elopers coming by train arrived at the Union Passenger station, which is on the Virginia side, but within 100 feet of Tennessee soil. Parson Burroughs would meet all trains upon their arrival, and it was the exception when no elopers were aboard.

Sometimes the parents of elopers would telegraph the Bristol, Va., police to arrest the runaways upon their arrival. In such case Parson Burroughs would hurry the couple across the line into Tennessee. When he saw an officer watching a train he aimed to get to the couple first.

Experience taught him how to pick out possible elopers from the mass of people leaving the trains. He had the sympathy of the police, and frequently they were accused of not exercising due diligence in the apprehension of elopers.

Built on State Line.

So steadily did the stream of elopers increase after the establishment of Parson Burroughs' mecca that when the old Nickels house, in which the minister first began his career crumbled into decay some years ago, he began immediately the erection of the matrimonial hotel.

It is modern in every respect, and is located in one of the best sections of the city. It is possible to marry a couple in either Virginia or Tennessee by merely taking them from one room into another.

It frequently happened that the bride was a girl of sixteen or seventeen and the bridegroom a widower of from forty to sixty; sometimes the reverse, the bridegroom being a mere youth while the bride was elderly. But it made no difference to Burroughs.

Rate fathers have been known to follow their fleeing daughters over frozen snows and across mountains, sometimes to capture and take them back, but more frequently to learn that the couple had arrived at the mecca ahead of them and were married.

Bally Day Service.

Don't forget that next Sunday is Bally Day at the local M. E. Church. Special programme has been arranged for this day and the largest former attendance at Sunday school is expected to be eclipsed.

LABOR PAPER PAYS TRIBUTE TO HUGHES

POINTS TO REPUBLICAN CANDI-DATE'S RECORD AS GOVERN-OR OF NEW YORK.

(By F. D. Vanover.)

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 10.—Thoughtful workmen and members of the various labor organizations here are expressing but little confidence in the policies advocated by President Wilson today, in view of the strongly expressed opinions of contempt for labor, of Professor Wilson of yesterday. Instead, they are replying, in constantly increasing numbers on the favorable public record of Charles Evans Hughes, of whom the Legislative Labor News, of New York, on October 10, 1910, paid the following tribute:

"Now that Governor Hughes has returned from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns, that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany.

"During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other State. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his message to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature. Only 162 labor laws have been enacted in this State since its erection in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

Read what Professor Wilson had to say before he became a politician and dared to freely express his contempt of labor bodies, and compare with the following expressions from Mr. Hughes when he was Governor of New York:

"The interests of labor are the interests of all the people and the protection of the wage-earner in the security of his life and health by every practicable means is one of the most sacred trusts of society.

"Under wise leadership, with statesmanlike guidance, with a sincere intention to promote the benefit of the community and to secure honorable progress, the mission of labor organizations is one of the finest that any association of men could guard. The workingman is not asking anything he should not have. All he wants is a square deal.

Flue Tobacco Crop.

The October crop report issued Wednesday by Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen, chronicles a remarkably good tobacco crop, with livestock and pasture in generally good condition and the potato crop below average.

Mrs. Potter Injured.

Mrs. Lydia Potter, of Hartford, happened to a very painful accident on last Monday evening in her room at the home of Mr. E. T. Williams. While in a swoon or fainting spell she fell to the floor breaking a thigh bone. The accident is the more serious, considering Mrs. Potter's age, which is near 77.

ALLIES DEMAND THE GREEK FLEET

ULTIMATUM ALSO DEMANDS VARIOUS CONCESSIONS TO BE GRANTED.

AN IMPORTANT RAILWAY

Also Included in Allies Request, Deemed Necessary For Their Safety.

London, Oct. 11.—Vice Admiral Dartigo du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean, has presented an ultimatum to Greece, demanding that Greece hand over the entire Greek fleet, except the armored cruiser Averoff and the battleships Lemnos and Kiklis, to the Entente Allies by 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Demand is also made for the control of the Piraeus-Larissa railway.

The Minister of Marine at Athens says Vice Admiral Fournet's demands will be complied with and that the fleet will be handed over before the prescribed time.

The demands were made as a precautionary measure to insure the safety of the Allies' fleet.

It is explained that the dispatch of artillery and ammunition to the interior, the movements of Greek ships and the continued activity of the Revolver Leagues have aroused fears of a disturbance of order at points where the Allies' war vessels are anchored and also endanger the security of the allied troops on the Balkan front.

Vice Admiral du Fournet demands the disarmament of the Kiklis, Lemnos and Averoff and the dismantling of the forts on the sea coast, while the two forts commanding the fleet's moorings are to be made over to the Admiral. Control of certain points must also be placed in the hands of the Anglo-British authorities.

In addition to the disarmament of the warships named their crews are to be reduced to one-third the regular complement.

UNPRECEDENTED FEAT IN TELEGRAPHIC TRANSMISSION

New York, Oct. 9.—An unprecedented feat in telegraphic transmission was accomplished by the traffic department of the Associated Press today when one operator, sitting in the stand at the Brave's field, at Boston, flashed the story of the second world's series game over 13,000 miles of leased wire reaching more than 300 Associated Press offices and newspapers, direct, without relay. The circuit extended west to San Francisco, as far north as Duluth, and as far south as New Orleans.

MAYOR WILLIAMS TO BEN JOHNSON

ISSUES STRINGENT AND POINTED REPLY TO 4TH DISTRICT
CONGRESSMAN.

Gives Reasons For Close of The Hartford Herald's Columns To His Articles.

To the Democratic voters of the Fourth Congressional District: A reply to the speech of Hon. Ben Johnson, when in Hartford, Sept. 18, 1916.

In the first place Mr. Johnson made a labored defense of the Roman Catholic confession, which nobody had attacked but which everybody knows was not horn of a spirit of Christianity.

He further says that: "Most municipalities have their own public hospitals and orphan asylums. There is not now and never has been any such institution in the District of Columbia."

Which is absolutely false, for I have before me H. R. 15774 passed by the last Congress, being an act providing for the expense of the District of Columbia for the year ending June 30, 1917, in which the government and the District share equally. This bill shows seven institutions as follows, whose officers from superintendent to common servant, are paid from the Treasury and are public institutions pure and simple:

Board of Children's Guardians	$13,430.00
Home for ex-Union Soldiers and Sailors	5,940.00
Home for Aged and Infirm	16,292.00
House of Detention	14,330.00
Municipal Lodging House	4,190.00
For new one	40,000.00
Tuberculosis Hospital	19,860.00
Washington Asylum and Jail	30,210.00

A total of $144,232.00

With all these public institutions for the care of indigents, do you see the need of the government paying the great Roman Catholic Providence Hospital the sum of $158,127.00 in the year 1907?

True, his list of non-Catholic institutions which includes the above public ones, is correct, except, the Georgetown University Hospital, which is Roman Catholic and draws $6,000.00 in the above bill, but not a single one of them is operated by a protestant church of any kind and there is no such institutions supported by the government.

I have gotten my information only from the Congressional Record and the Treasury Department, so they are the "higots" Mr. Johnson refers to, I presume.

Mr. Johnson has never answered my question but says I "claim" (?) to be a Democrat. I have always been and ever expect to be a red blood American Democrat, who has never taken an oath or bowed the knee to a foreign King or Potentate.

The Herald man has been passing judgment on me, now I want to pass one on him. He holds an appointment under Mr. Johnson, and that has closed his paper to the truth.

Now, Mr. Democratic Voter, you see to it that Mr. Johnson stays at home and in two years we will elect a genuine American Democrat to Congress, who has no other political ties.

Yours for the success of Woodrow Wilson.

JAMES H. WILLIAMS.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT STOPS NEWS SERVICE

INTERNATIONAL NEWS DENIED
FURTHER USE OF CABLES—
CHARGE BAD FAITH.

London, Oct. 11.—The morning newspapers publish in conspicuous places the official order denying to the International News Service further use of the Official Press Bureau and the use of cables and all other facilities for transmission of news because of its "garbling of messages and breach of faith." The order appears under such headings as "No British News for Hearst," "News Made in America," and "American Agency's Garbling of Messages."

In an extended editorial the Times says:

American Press Praised.

"While we rejoice that our Government has inflicted proper punishment upon an unscrupulous news agency, we trust that the measures taken will not be regarded by the people of this country as involving any slur upon the character and conscientiousness of the United States press as a whole. The reputation of the great majority of American journals for fairness and honesty stands above reproach and it has again and again been vindicated during the war. We imagine, indeed, that the American press and public will be grateful to the British authorities for having punished wrongdoers and especially for having made public the grounds for the action taken.

"The dissemination of accurate news is at all times a matter of high importance. We trust our authorities will extend their laudable energy in other directions also and visit with similar punishment any other news agencies or journals which may be convicted of publishing garbled intelligence from this country."

ALLEGED BOYD COUNTY COUNTERFEITER ARRESTED

Danville, Ky., Oct. 11.—Following the seizure today of a complete counterfeit outfit, F. H. Floyd, of Junction City, was placed under arrest on a charge of coining spurious half dollars. In default of $1,000 bond, Floyd was sent to jail at Covington to await trial.

An investigation was instituted by Louisville secret service agents following reports that spurious half dollars were in circulation in and about Danville.

When Floyd's home, the old Llanulett Springs Hotel, was searched, moulds for half dollars, quarters and dimes were found. He denied he had made any counterfeit coins.

Public Road Working.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 24 and 25, the people on the southern side of the county will devote their time, teams and tools to improving the road for two or three miles from Horah's Ferry to the end of the new pike towards Beaver Dam. This section has been surveyed by the State engineer and all work done these two days will be of much assistance to the county and hasten the time when it can be picked. It is expected that the right-of-way will be cleared and fencing set back before that day. This is one of the most important roads in the county, being made 40 feet wide and with easy grades. Everybody invited to co-operate.

6 STEAMERS SUNK OFF U. S. COAST

GERMAN SUBMARINES DESTROY BRITISH, DUTCH AND NOR-WEGIAN VESSELS.

ALL GIVEN WARNING

Crews Are Rescued By American Destroyers When News Is Flash.

Boston, Oct. 8.—The submarine arm of the Imperial navy ravaged shipping off the eastern coast of the United States to-day.

Four British, one Dutch and one Norwegian steamer were sent to the bottom or left crippled dorells off Nantucket Shoals.

To-night under the light of the hunter's moon the destroyer flotilla of the United States Atlantic fleet was picking up passengers and crews of the destroyed vessels and bringing them into Newport, R. I.

So far as known there was no loss of life, though at a late hour the crew of the British steamer Kingston had not been accounted for.

A submarine held up the American steamer Kansan, bound from New York for Genoa, with steel for the Italian Government, but later, on establishing her identity, allowed the American to proceed. The Kansan came into Boston harbor late tonight for her usual call here.

Believed To Be U-53.

The hostile submarine is believed to be the U-53, which paid a call to Newport yesterday and disappeared at sunset. Some naval men, however, declared that at least two submarines are operating close to the American shore, though outside the three-mile limit.

The record of submarine warfare, as brought to land by wireless dispatches follows:

The Strathdene, British freighter, torpedoed and sunk off Nantucket. Crew taken aboard Nantucket Shoals lightship and later reported to Newport by torpedoed destroyers. The Strathdene left New York yesterday for Bordeaux, and was attacked at 6 a. m.

The West Point, British freighter, torpedoed and sunk off Nantucket, crew abandoned the ship in small boats after a warning shot from submarine's gun. Officers and men were taken aboard a destroyer. The vessel was attacked at 10:45 a. m. She was bound from London for Newport News.

Passenger Liner Sunk.

The Stephano, British passenger liner, plying regularly between New York, Halifax and St. Johns, New Foundland, torpedoed southeast of Nantucket, while bound for New York. Passengers and crew, numbering about 140, were picked up by the destroyer Drayton and transferred to the destroyer Jenkins. The attack was made at 4:30 p. m.

The Kingston, British freighter, torpedoed and sunk southeast of Nantucket. Crew missing and destroyer searching for them. This vessel is not accounted for in maritime registers, and may be the Kingstonian. The attack occurred at 6 p. m.

Bloomersdijk, Dutch freighter, torpedoed and sunk south of Nantucket. Crew taken aboard a destroyer. The steamer was bound from New York for Rotterdam, having sailed last night.

The Christian Knudsen, Norwegian freighter, torpedoed and sunk near where the Bloomersdijk went down. Crew picked up by destroyers. The vessel sailed from New York Saturday for London.

The sensation created yesterday when the U-53 quietly slipped into Newport harbor and as quietly slipped away three hours later was less than the shock in shipping circles when wireless reports of submarine attacks began to come into the naval radio stations just before noon today. Within a few minutes the air was literally charged with electricity as wireless messages of warning were broadcasted along the coast.

GERMAN TRENCHES JUST LIKE HOME

ALLIES WONDER AT LUXURY FOUND IN ENEMY'S UNDER-GROUND DWELLINGS.

EQUIPMENT ELABORATE

Electric Lights, Shower Baths And
Real Beds Found In Captured
Entrenchments.

British Tommies and French poilus in the advance on the Somme have had much the same sensation in occupying German trenches that an East side hotel dweller would have in entering a Riverside Drive mansion.

The conditions are as far separate as the poles. On the allied side are miserable dugouts, mere holes delved or burrowed in the ground. The floors and walls are the bare earth; the beds are heaps of straw; candles give a meagre light; boxes for seats, if the occupants are lucky; everything dank, damp, miserable. There is even less comfort than the cave men of old had.

On the German side are luxurious and, to the minds of the allied soldiers, sybaritic underground dwellings. Roofs, walls, floors and staircases of new timber, sanitary wall paper, shower baths, electric lighting, real beds and, in the officers' rooms, arm chairs with nice, soft cushions, book-cases, books, dressing tables, pictures on the wall—in fact, all the comforts of garrison life in peace time. It is no wonder that in entering these underground mansions there was a chorus of "Blimey me's" and "Moi dieus" from the astonished Tommies and poilus.

To the officer's mind it was an indication of German confidence in holding the Western front indefinitely.

The German front in the West is like one huge straggling village built underground and strung along a road 300 miles long. These troglodytic houses—and they are real houses of one or two floors—are built to certain official designs and drawn out in section and plan.

The main entrance from the trench level is frequently through a steel door of a pattern apparently standardized, so that hundreds may come from the factory on one order and rushing parts be easily replaced. The profusely timbered doorway is made to their measure. There is a typical touch of German orderliness and cleanliness in the perforated sheets of iron outside these doors so that the men may scrape their feet of the trench mud before entering.

Inside, a flight of from twelve to thirty-six steps leads down at an easy angle. The treads of the stairs and the descending roof of the staircase are formed of miling frames of stout timber with double top-sills. The walls are of thick planks, notched at the top and bottom to fit the frames, and strengthened with iron tie-rods running from top to bottom of the stairs; and with thick wooden struts at right angles to these. At the foot of the stairs a tunnelled corridor runs straight forward for anything up to fifty yards, and out of it open rooms and minor passages on each side. In many dugouts a second staircase, or two staircases, lead to a lower floor sometimes thirty or forty feet below the trench level. All of these stair-cases, passages and rooms are, in the best specimens, completely lined with wood and as fully strengthened as the entrance stair-case already described.

All the Comforts of Home.

In one typical dugout each section of a platoon had its allotted places for messing and sleeping, its own place for parade in a passage, and its own emergency exit to the trench. In another, used as a hospital for dealing immediately with the wounded, the first floor underground has a large reception hall, dressing room, bath and large operating room, with adequate heating apparatus. An easy stair-case leads down to seven or eight other rooms, accommodating thirty-two patients.

A most elaborate dugout was captured near Mametz, designed to house a whole company of 300 men. It contained kitchens, provision and munition storerooms, a well, a forge, engine room and dynamo, lighting the whole place with electricity. Everything possible for the comfort of the men and officers as well as the exigencies of war was provided for. In the officers' quarters of the various captured dugouts have been found full-length mirrors, comfortable beds, cushioned armchairs, book-cases and pictures. In one room glazed sanitary paper lined the wall, and the present English occupant is convinced by circumstantial evidence that his predecessor lived there with his wife and child. Clearly there was no expectation of an early move.

Lavish Use of Labor.

Other German trench works show the same lavish use of labor as the dugouts. In the old German front trench south of La Boisselle an entrance like that of a dugout leads to a flight of twenty-four stairs, all well finished. At their foot a landing three feet square opens on its further side upon a nearly vertical shaft. Descending this by a ladder of thirty-two rungs, you find a second landing like the first, opening on a continuation of the shaft. Down this a ladder of sixty rungs brings you to the starting point of an almost straight level tunnel three feet wide and about five feet high, cut through pure, hard chalk. It ends in a blank wall.

But Are They As Healthy?

It is admitted that without doubt the overhead strength of German dugouts keep down casualties during bombardment, and sometimes enables the Germans to bring up unsuspected forces to harass the allied troops in the rear with machine gun and rifle fire when a charge has carried the men past an uncleared enemy dugout. On the other hand, it is contended that if the advance is made good, every German left in a dugout will be either a dead man or a prisoner.

The German dugouts admittedly give more protection to the men in bad weather than do the French or English ones. On the other hand, there is nothing to show that the half-hurled German army gains more by relative immunity from rheumatism and bronchitis than it loses in the way of general health and vitality through troglodytic life. In England troops have better health in tents than in huts, and better health in huts than in billets, and it is contended that the close underground villages of the Germans yield higher figures of general sickness than the simpler, shallower, more airy trench shelters of the allies.

Despondency.
When you feel discouraged and despondent do not give up but take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you are almost certain to feel all right within a day or two. Despondency is very often due to indigestion and biliousness, for which these tablets are especially valuable. Obtainable everywhere.

John Wanamaker on Advertising.
John Wanamaker, the man who made retail advertising famous, and the man who was made famous by retail advertising—states:

"Our little allowance of advertising money went to the newspapers, then, as it goes nearly altogether today, because I never have a moment for discovering it will be for finding out that the only advertising of direct and instant benefit to both merchant and customer is in the newspaper. All others are vanity and vexation of spirit. To have learned this fact has greatly helped my enterprises."—Team Work.

OLD MULE STORY HELPS PREACHERS

OLD BOB CROWE BROUGHT CONTRIBUTIONS FROM MISSOURI METHODISTS.

TURNED OUT BY OWNER

How The Rev. H. R. Cooper Discovered an Illustration That Struck Home.

Macon, Mo.—The story of an old mule, related with ten-compelling pathos by the Rev. H. R. Cooper, is said to be largely responsible for the generous outpouring of contributions to the $200,000 fund for the benefit of superannuated ministers of the Missouri Methodist Conference and for widows of Methodist clergymen.

Five or six years ago Mr. Cooper started out to raise $100,000 for the purpose indicated. The sum, if raised, was to be so invested that it would take care of the ministers whose days of labor were over. Some laughed at the idea of raising such a large sum. Mr. Cooper said it could be done. The board was so much impressed that it appointed him financial agent to go ahead and try.

Studied The Situation For Years.

Mr. Cooper had long been an energetic and successful minister, and at times held appointments as presiding elder. He knew the people of Missouri. Before accepting the appointment he had studied the matter carefully and decided just how he would go about it. Instead of using in his address the flowers of speech, he decided he would present his argument in a parable—one that would strike home. That it did strike home is amply evidenced by the remarkable reports Mr. Cooper has presented at each annual meeting of the conference. In two years he had the $100,000 for the old preachers. The board was so well satisfied that it sent him out to raise another hundred thousand.

Every church visited by Mr. Cooper has heard the mule story and some have cried over it when they saw the application.

Story Came From Audrain County.

Now amid the roots of the cotton woods of Audrain county sleeps an animal of the type which has made Missouri famous. For thirty years that old mule had labored in season and out, rain and shine, hot or cold, and then entered into its rest.

Mr. Cooper had been on his tour several months before he heard about that mule. He investigated and learned all the facts. Then he told the story that brought the contributions.

"Brother Jim Jones was a Methodist of the old school," he would begin, "always at his place in church, ready to shout, sing or pray with the best of them. He never cheated in a horse trade, never lied about the quality of his dogs, and was always honest with his neighbors and his God. Among his stock was old Bill Crow, a black mule, nearly a third of a century old. His service had been almost as long as his years. One morning Brother Jones hitched Bill Crow up to the plow and started across the field.

"'Git up!' said Brother Jones.

"Bill Crow didn't move. He just turned his head and looked kinder mournful at his boss, and then laid down. His working days were over. Brother Jones saw that, because it was the first time Bill Crow had ever refused to move when commanded. He went up and looked into the mule's eyes and saw tears in them. He knew Bill Crow had done the best he could and that he hated to quit. There was no help for it, and so he turned the old mule out in the woods to die.

Boy Makes First Appeal.

"That night Brother Jones' boy Jim ran to him and said:

"'Paw, what've you done with old Bill Crow?'
"Why, son, he fell down at the plow this morning, and so I turned him out to die. Guess his working days are over."

"'You turned old Bill Crow out to die?'

"Why, sure; he ain't no good any more."

"'But, see here, paw; ain't he been working all his life for you?'

"He sure has, son, and he worked good, too."

"'And you goin' to church every Sunday and a singin' 'I Want to Be an Angel?' Paw, do you reckon an angel would treat old Bill Crow that way?'

"A neighbor passed by where Brother Jones was plowing with a new horse.

"'What you done with old Bill Crow, Jim?' the neighbor asked."

"'Oh, he played out t'other day and I just turned him out to die."

"'See here, Jim, you don't mean to tell me after he's worked for you all these years as hard as he has, you'd turn him down in his old age? Why, Jim, no Christian would act that way.'

His Wife Was Assailed.

"That was putting it pretty strong. Jim's conscience began to work. Seemed like he'd been pretty mean to that old mule. He thought he'd go to the house and ask his wife about it.

"'Jim,' she said, red hot, 'you don't mean to tell me you turned old Bill Crow out in the cold after the way he's worked for you all these years? I'm ashamed of you!'

"That settled it. What the missus said was the law with Jim, who felt so mean and ornery at the way he treated old Bill Crow that he sneaked out of the house, hunted up the old mule, begged its pardon and brought it back to the barn, where Jim saw to it that ever after it was well fed and cared for.

"Now, folks," Mr. Cooper would say, driving home the lesson, "don't you think that an old, white-haired man who has labored for you maybe fifty or sixty years or more—laughed when you laughed, suffered when you suffered—comforted the sick, ministered to the widow and the orphan, pointed the way to the glory world as the sands of life were ebbing—don't you think a man who has done all this has earned at your hands his keep in the twilight of his long useful life?'

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape, for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as to go on a vacation or camp without Sloan's Liniment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.

Bee Believes In Efficiency.

Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper, says:

"The ant takes rank over the honeybee in Scriptural commendation as a hustler, but the modern specialized bee directs his activities into commercial channels in a way that leaves the ant way behind. Prof. M. B. Waite, Uncle Sam's bee chief, covered 2,586 apple flowers with gauze netting before they unfolded, and secured only three apples from the experiment. Other apple blossoms, on which bees worked unhindered, set a normal quantity of fruit."

When You Take Cold.

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy, as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opium or other narcotic. Obtainable everywhere.

Looking For Trouble.

If you are one of those foolish souls who look for trouble, make up your mind not once, to right about face and look in the opposite direction from now on.

It is a good thing to remember that almost everything reaches its greatest value in anticipation—pleasure and trouble alike, pain and flight as well.

Worrying about things doesn't make them one bit easier to bear—but instead weakens one's powers of endurance and means that a certain amount of energy which ought to be expended in the actual meeting of a situation has been wasted in planning how to meet it.

The trouble for which one looks very often fails to arrive—but in their stead comes others which it takes all of one's strength to bear at the moment of their coming. Isn't it tragically foolish then that one bit of strength and force should have been wasted in imagining how one would endure an unpleasant set of situations which one never had to endure?

The girl who is doomed to spend her summer in the city is very likely to wonder with self pity how she is going to get through the long, hot, lonely days and the sultry uneventful evenings. Then perhaps a cold, rainy summer arrives where she has to endure an entirely different set of conditions from the one about which she was worrying.

It is a good idea to remember that nothing is very serious—and that we give things a value and importance hopelessly beyond their actual gravity.

Is the use of running to meet trouble last month who does not smile at something which then seemed very agonizing? Perspective changes the appearance of things greatly. An emotional nature exaggerates things frightfully at the actual time of their happening. The poised and balanced nature doesn't make the blunder of taking its own pleasures or its own sorrows too seriously. It knows that nothing lasts—but life is change and flux and alterous.

Since this is so, why agonize over something today which doesn't seem very important tomorrow, specially so since you only wear yourself out and leave yourself unable to contend with tomorrow's situation?

None of us have any more than just a certain amount of vital energy at a given moment. What's the use of borrowing tomorrow's store in order to meet today's events? What

Hooray For Mr. Johnson

Made Pork at Nearly 2c a Pound

By Feeding Liquid Stock Feed

Mr. Hugh L. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., writes that he produced pork this summer at barely 2 cents per pound by feeding Glenmore Liquid Stock Feed. Here's his letter.

Glenmore Distilleries Co.,
Owensboro, Ky.
Gentlemen—
I have just completed the fattening of a bunch of hogs and obtained the following results with the use of your Liquid Stock Feed:
I had 45 hogs at the start and 88 hogs at the finish. The feeding period ran for 25 days, during which time I fed 89 pounds of corn, 150 lbs. of hay and 100 barrels of Liquid Stock Feed, the corn costing $22.50 and the Liquid Stock Feed $21.00. On the entire lot of hogs I showed a total gain of 2455 pounds, or 53 pounds per hog, making that I produced my pork at exactly $1.20 over 2c per pound.
Yours very truly,
HUGH L. JOHNSON.

Prince Albert gives smokers such delight, because

- its flavor is so different and so delightfully good;
- it can't bite your tongue;
- it can't parch your throat;
- you can smoke it as long and as hard as you like without any comeback but real tobacco happiness!

On the reverse side of every Prince Albert package you will read:

"PROCESS PATENTED JULY 30TH, 1907"

That means to you a lot of tobacco enjoyment. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

YOU'LL find a cheery howdy-do on top no matter how much of a stranger you are in the neck of the woods you drop into. For, Prince Albert is right there—at the first place you pass that sells tobacco! The happy red tin for a dime, then there's the hand-some pound and half round tin humidor and the pound crystal glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such bang-up trim all the time!

This is the reverse side of the Prince Albert tin. Read this "Patented Process" message-to-you and realize what it means in making Prince Albert so much to your liking.

in goodness and in pipe satisfaction is all we or its enthusiastic friends ever claimed for it!

It answers every smoke desire you or any other man ever had! It is so cool and fragrant and appealing to your smokeappetite that you will get chummy with it in a mighty short time!

Will you invest 5c or 10c to prove out our say-so on the national joy smoke?

GAME WARDENS GET LOADS OF FISH NETS

DUNDEE OFFICER WITH RAISING PARTY THAT DOES $3,000 DAMAGE.

About $3,000 worth of fish nets and seines were destroyed by five deputies from the office of the Kentucky Fish and Game Warden, at Frankfort, Ky., during a raid which covered more than 200 miles on the shores of Green River last week. The raid ended yesterday morning at the mouth of Green River, about nine miles from Evansville, Ind.

Five men, J. H. Pittman, of Greenville, Ky.; M. M. Rudolph, Sturgis, Ky.; Dr. Leslie Richey, Glasgow, Ky.; C. L. Wedding, Dundee, Ky.; and Wade F. Richardson, Louisville, all deputy game wardens, gathered at Mammoth Cave last Tuesday morning, where they prepared for the start. They had a motorboat, The Gypsy. Early Tuesday they set out in the boat for their trip down Green River.

Covering both sides of the shore the men searched for nets and seines. Upon finding these articles the deputies drove the boat to the shore and built fires with them. Most of their work in destroying the nets and seines was carried on at night and several times the deputies had thrilling experiences.

Once during a raid on a fishing camp in which there were several hundreds of dollars worth of the fishing tackle, the deputies said they had to draw guns to get to their boat. At Spottsville, a village near the mouth of Green River, word had been sent before them to fishermen, and the deputies missed destroying a large number of seines and nets. During the raid they estimated that about 300 nets and seines were burned.

Carload in Pond River.

On Pond River, a branch of Green River, near Calhoun, Ky., more than a freight carload of nets were destroyed. The deputies will continue with their work of destroying nets, and next week, it is understood, will search the Ohio River. All streams and rivers throughout the State will be searched, the deputies said.

Wholesale violations of the game and fish law resulted in the raid. The law provides that fishing with nets or seines is contrary to the statute, and fishing can be done only with hooks and lines or with apparatus with hooks attached.

Two years ago the deputies, in a raid covering hundreds of miles, burned more than 800 nets or seines.

Normal Inventions.

Every day some queer new invention is made to help people do all sorts of things. A novel machine looks like a carpet sweeper for the lawn. It can be run over the grass just like a lawn mower, and it brushes up all the scattered leaves and twigs exactly as a carpet sweeper brushes the carpet.

Another useful thing reported is a saw mill run by the wind. On the shore of San Francisco Bay, where there is much driftwood, a man has rigged up a wooden wheel made with the vanes or wings set at an angle, as is seen in any modern windmill. The strong winds keep it going quite steadily, and runs a little saw, which cuts the driftwood up into good lengths for fireplaces. Then the man sells it, for people like to burn driftwood and see the brilliant colors—green and red and blue—that come out where the salt has acted on the rusty nails and the rust spots in the watersoaked wood.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

Double Proof.

A tramp knocked at a farmer's door and called for something to eat.

"Are you a Christian?" asked the good-hearted country man.

"Can't you tell?" answered the man. "Look at the holes worn in the knees of my pants. What do they prove?"

The farmer's wife promptly brought out the food, and the tramp turned to go.

"Well! Well!" asked the farmer. "What made those holes in the back of your pants?"

"Backsliding," replied the tramp as he hurried on.—Christian Herald.

The Way They Do It.

First Connellman—Here's a blue-looking street.

Second Ditto—You're right. What's the best thing to do with it?

"Let's have it dug up for a sewer."

"But wouldn't it be proper to pave it first?"

"Of course; I thought you would understand that. Then, after it is paved and a drain put in we'll have it repaved."

"All in readiness to be dug up again for the gas pipe? I see you understand the principles of municipal economy. And after we have had it repaved for the second time, then what?"

"Well, then, it will be ready for widening. There's nothing I admire so much as system in the care and improvement of our roadways." Real Estate Bulletin.

CIGARS ARE SAMPLED BY MECHANICAL DEVICE

There are tea-tasters, perfume-smellers and silk-feelers, but when it comes to smoking cigars to determine their uniform burning, their ash color and the aroma of the smoke the human element is entirely dispensed with machines—cigar-smoking machines that can smoke four cigars at once and never smoke themselves to death—are used. These are of two kinds. The cigar buyers use a simple blower outfit and the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture tests its tobacco leaf with an aspirator and siphon apparatus.

When the buyers come to New York for their season's supply of tobacco they take the blower machine with them, and after selecting certain qualities of tobacco have cigars made up on the spot, connect the blower to an ordinary lamp socket. The way the cigar burns, the color of its ash and the aroma of the smoke are indications as to the quality and desirability of that certain brand.

The Bureau of Plant Industry has an interest in tobacco entirely different from the cigar buyer. It is endeavoring to improve tobacco by a scientific study of different brands. To eliminate the personal equation in smoking and to secure uniform conditions the bureau has a unique apparatus for testing the burning quality of cigars. The "pull" on the cigar is secured by means of an aspirator, which is filled by a continuous inflow of water and emptied at regular intervals by a siphon. The "pull" occurs at intervals of thirty seconds, and continues for a period of ten seconds. The apparatus smokes four cigars of the perfect type in about thirty minutes.

There are several elements which go to make up a good or bad burn, chief of which are the capacity for holding fire, the evenness of the burn, the color of the ash and its firmness, the cooling or carbonization, and the "pucker" of the leaf immediately in advance of the burning zone of the cigar. The final test of any cigar tobacco must, of course, rest in the smoking of the manufactured cigar, but, while this gives a direct means of determining the character of the ash, it does not furnish accurate information as to the evenness of the burn or the fire-holding capacity of anyone of the components used in the experiment. Tests have been made using different fillers with the same wrappers.—Popular Mechanics.

SUBMARINE VISITS THE UNITED STATES

GERMAN UNDERSEA FIGHTER PUTS IN AT NEWPORT TO MAIL LETTER.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 7.—Seventeen days from Wilhelmshaven, the Imperial German submarine U-53, dropped anchor in Newport harbor to-day. Almost before the officers of the American fleet of warships, through which the stranger had nosed her way, had recovered from their astonishment, the undersea fighter had delivered a message for the German Ambassador, and, weighing anchor, turned Brenton's Reef lights and disappeared beneath the waves just inside the three-mile limit. As she came and went, she drew the black and white colors of the German navy, a gun was mounted on the forward deck and another aft, while eight torpedoes, plainly visible under the forward deck, gave mute assurance that the warship was ready for a fight.

Lieut. Capt. Hans Rose, who hung up a new world's record in bringing an armed submarine in battle array across the Atlantic, said that he had called at Newport simply to mail a letter to Count von Helldorf. He required neither provisions nor fuel and would be on his way, he said, long before the twenty-four hours during which a belligerent ship may remain within a neutral harbor had expired.

Asked Papa To Whip Him.

A young lady, her cheeks flushed with indignation and her eyes flashing fire, burst in upon her parents and demanded in no uncertain terms that papa immediately go and lick a certain smart young man in this town. "Why, papa, he flirted with me! He asked, 'which way, little one?' and offered to follow me. I want him whipped. Oh, if I were only a man!"

Mamma naturally got dad's hat and told him where the six-shooter lay hidden away. But papa didn't take the hint. "Daughter," he said, calling the girl to his side, "no one on this earth is more interested in you than your old dad. No one quicker to rise to your defense. But listen. This very interest has led me to study you, and this is what I have learned.

"You go down the street very smartly dressed. You apparently deliberately expose as much of your person as is necessary to appeal to the carnal instinct of a man. Your lovely neck, a large portion of your well-developed breast, your arms and by no means of a short and transparent hose, a goodly share of your lower limbs are exposed to view.

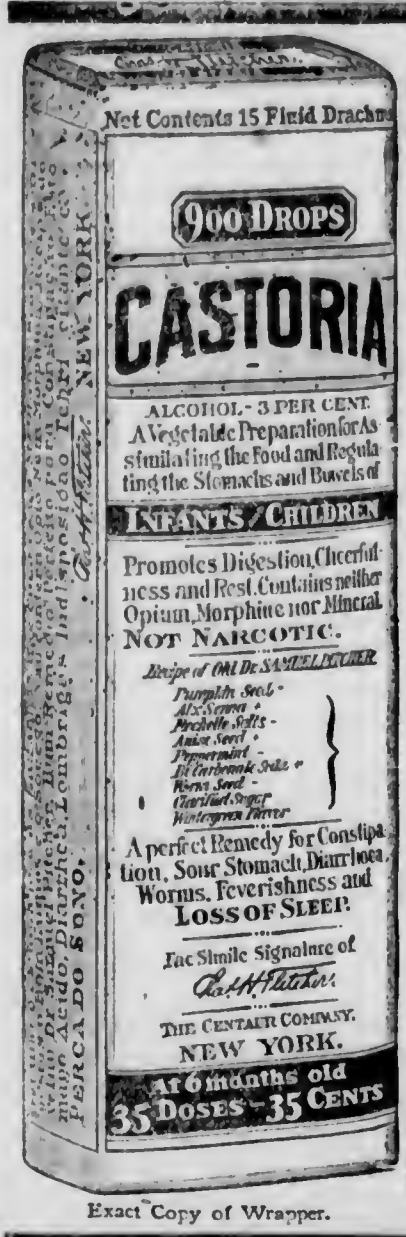

"That part of your body that is at all partly covered is clothed in a way that every curve and angle is out in bold relief. Then when you pass a man or group of men, you giggle, toss your head and perhaps remark to your girl companion 'that this old town is the slowest town that you ever saw.' And if some man challenges you, you want him shot."

How Catarrh Is Contracted.

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

CIVIL SERVICE PLANK.

"The law pertaining to the civil service should be honestly and rigidly enforced, to the end that merit and ability should be the standard of appointment and promotion rather than the service rendered to a political party; and we favor a reorganization of the civil service, with adequate compensation commensurate with the class of work performed for all officers and employees."—Democratic National Platform, 1912.
Then they kick big holes in the civil service. Fired many able employees because they were not Democrats to make room for those of less ability who were. One of opposite belief must be mighty quiet about it to stand a show in the civil service. Probably they believe only a Democrat is capable of holding a government position. It is just another broken plank.

Nothing is more natural than for leaves to fall in the fall.

Horse sense is a good thing to possess but it won't get a man shod all around for a dollar.

Some people would do more thinking if they had a self-starter attached to the wheels of their brain.

What would happen to the to-morrow-to-night school boy who appeared on the campus with a big red apple?

Guess that bottle that drifted from Kuttawa, Ky., to the Mediterranean Sea was strictly neutral during the voyage.

The moon has been shining so brightly in Ohio county lately that the owls are deceived and do their roaming in the day time.

The lawyer tells the farmer his tobacco is not much good but when the same is offered the consumer its fragrance is compared to the most elegant.

The election this year falls on November 7. If you are for Hughes, Haswell, Kirk and the Republican ticket begin making arrangements now to get to the polls on that day.

A German submarine came all the way to America to mail a letter. Probably they heard about how Ollie James and other Democratic Congressmen had been getting by with it.

Democratic papers are trying to create an impression that public sentiment is swinging to Wilson. Meanwhile Hughes' popularity is growing with leaps and bounds and a victory for the Republican ticket in November seems assured.

A prominent Ohio county farmer handed the writer an envelope Wednesday containing campaign literature and mailed under the Frank of Ben Johnson with the remark that when the letter was stamped he would read it. How far wrong was he? When a man wants to boost himself he should pay the price of postage and not use the people's mail for political purposes.

Not for many years has the opportunity for the election of a Republican Congressman in the Fourth District been greater. The Republicans nominated this time a clean, able statesman deserving of the support of men of all parties and if reports can be relied upon he will receive a large Democratic vote in November. Mr. Haswell is making many new friends in the upper district and will likely wind up his splendid campaign in this end. He is a good speaker, a lawyer by profession, and if sent to Congress will make a record that the Fourth District and Kentucky may point to with pride.

Tobacco growers of the Green River District will never accomplish much as long as they fight and knife one another. Men working for the identical ultimate purpose should work and pull together. The press, in a large measure, is anxious to help the tobacco grower. The press realizes that the farmer is not getting enough for his tobacco according to the price paid by the consumer. Public sentiment is also with the grower but how can the press and the public aid in the work when those directly concerned are not working in harmony? Get together, fellows, and don't injure your cause by fighting among yourselves.

Congressman Ben Johnson nor his benchmen have not denied the charge made by former Mayor James H. Williams that he (Johnson) said to a group of Ohio county Democrats, "I have a potato patch down here can go to it—so far as I am concerned." That statement and command does not set well with a thinking Democrat and many of them will support Haswell this fall in preference to casting their ballot for a man who appears so ungrateful for their past support. When Mr. Johnson gets ready to dig his potatoes November 7 he is very likely to find that the patch is not so well cultivated as he at first thought.

WHAT WOODROW WILSON REALLY THINKS OF LABOR.

Woodrow Wilson, candidate, is suddenly posing as a great friend of labor and a great believer in labor unions.

Woodrow Wilson, before entering national politics, held decided views on the labor question which do not square with his professions of today.

Which Woodrow Wilson will occupy the White House after the 4th of next March, if the electorate this fall should confer upon him another term as President? What would be his attitude toward labor then, when he had no further favors to ask of the voters?

The labor views of Woodrow Wilson, private citizen, are interesting. On February 25, 1905, at the People's Forum in New Rochelle, New York, Mr. Wilson said:

Labor Unions reward the shiftless and incompetent at the expense of the able and industrious.

At the same meeting he further said:

The objections I have to labor unions is that they drag the highest man to the level of the lowest. I must demur with the labor unions when they say, 'You must award the dull the same as you award those with special gifts.'

FISHING FOR THE LABOR VOTE.

The Democratic leaders are making a strenuous, desperate effort to land the labor vote for Wilson this fall but if the laborer is wise he will detect the hook and steer clear of the artificial bait. The laborer only need look into Mr. Wilson's record before he needed votes to learn that Wilson, the author, and Wilson, the professor, was an enemy to organized labor and so expressed himself time and again.

The labor voter will surely not allow himself to be deceived by the Adamson Bill, which is only a measure to postpone the proposed railroad strike until after the election and cater to that class of voters directly affected. The proper way for the laboring man to remedy his condition is to first restore a protective tariff and prevent Japanese and other foreign-made goods, produced at one-tenth the labor cost of American-made goods, from entering these shores at such a reduced cost that his hands are robbed of employment. Stop the war, continue the free-trade policy and most all of our laboring class will have less than eight hours a day and thousands no hours a day. It is very evident that what Wilson wants is votes and he is using every method to get them.

Hughes has always been a friend to the laborer. He never made the statement that Chinese immigrants were preferable to the American laborer, as did Mr. Wilson. His record as Governor of New York speaks for itself along these lines and organized labor would be foolish to support a man who, in former years, openly denounced it.

KENTUCKY BOTTLE DRIFTS TO ALGIERS

MESSAGE SET ADRIET IN CUMBERLAND RIVER PICKED UP IN MEDITERRANEAN.

Submarines cross the waters but they have periscopes, propellers and crews. Kentucky bottles are so strong that they make the little journey all alone sometimes and just to prove it here is one from Tuesday's Louisville Times:

Thrown into the Cumberland River at Kuttawa, Ky., in January, a bottle in which was inclosed a scrap of paper with the names and addresses of four Kentucky boys thereon, was picked up in the harbor of Algiers on the Mediterranean Sea nine months later. A letter has been received from the finder by the postmaster at Kuttawa.

The trip by this bottle eclipses any other similar authentic trip known. Miss Mary Molloy, of Kuttawa, sent The Times the letter from France, together with the slip originally inclosed in the bottle and the letter, signed by M. F. Davin, who formerly lived in America, is herewith reproduced.

Of course the fame of the Kentucky bottle has traveled for and in many cases the bottle itself, but possibly this bottle has the distinction of being the first to cross the ocean alone.

Early in January, 1914, four boys playing around the Heading Mill at Kuttawa, Ky., came across an empty quart bottle. Writing their names and addresses upon a slip of paper with request, "Please write," they placed the slip in the bottle and dropped the bottle in the Cumberland River and for a few weeks, haunted the post-office with expectations of hearing from their dear unknown.

Time passed and no response and the instance of the bottle had been entirely forgotten by the boys when, on October 6, the postmaster of Kuttawa, Ky., received a mysterious-looking letter from one "Frederic Davin, Chaulier Rosita, Bureau Central, per Marseille," bearing French stamps and postmarks and addressed to "M. the Postmaster General of Kuttawa, Ky., U. S. A." The contents of the letter follows:

Algiers, Sept. 10, 1916.—Dear Sir: We found inclosed in a bottle, floating in the port, the following addresses with mention to write. Those are the names: J. M. Braswell, William E. Matthews, Hussey Braswell, Hugh Wilford, all of Kuttawa, Ky. Will you be kind enough to let those persons know that the bottle was found in the port by Mrs. Louis Roque, Bar Du Bastion, Central Escalier de la Gare, Algiers, and by Fred Davin, Chaulier Rosita, Bureau Naval Central par Marseille.

I am a resident of New York, myself and the last named, for the present in the service. I would be glad to know if it is one other case of a submarine. Please let me know.

As an old boy from the States I remain always, after my flag, a good, staunch friend and admirer of the Stars and Stripes, yours,
M. F. DAVIN.

The slip of paper found in the bottle was returned with the letter and was identified by the boys.

Eight Millions a Day.

When the Democratic Congress adjourned it counted a session of 215 days, including Sundays and holidays. There have been longer sessions.

When an account of stock was taken it was found that the total of appropriations, fully made or authorized, was close to two billion dollars. There never was a Congress that approached this figure.

For every day of the session, Sundays and all, the average amount of money voted away was more than eight million dollars.

"He kept us out of war," yet the amount of money which he permitted a recklessly extravagant Congress to take away from the taxpayers—much of it for unnecessary expenditures and much of it for expenditures plainly political in their purpose—will compare not at all unfavorably with the sums which are being expended by some of the European nations which are battling so desperately.

A peace President, with war expenditures and "war taxes" is an anomaly. So, too, is a Democratic President in this land. We shall return to normal conditions after the fourth of next March.

To meet this expense new and burdensome taxes have been levied and a bond issue has just been returned to. In the midst of the riot of extravagance a jangled Treasury Statement was thrust into the country's face in an endeavor to hide the desperate condition to which Democratic management had brought the nation's finances. But now the facts are out.

The Democratic party has demonstrated its folly and weakness at the expense of the taxpayers. Eight million dollars a day is a mighty high price for the kind of government we have been getting.—EX.

Add Democratic loss to Republican gain	981
Total net gain for Republicans	3,175

At the same ratio of gain in the whole State the Republicans will have the biggest majority ever given them in Kentucky.

Let's Talk Illusions.
Under the appropriate caption, "Let's Talk Illusions," the New York Evening Sun prints the following:

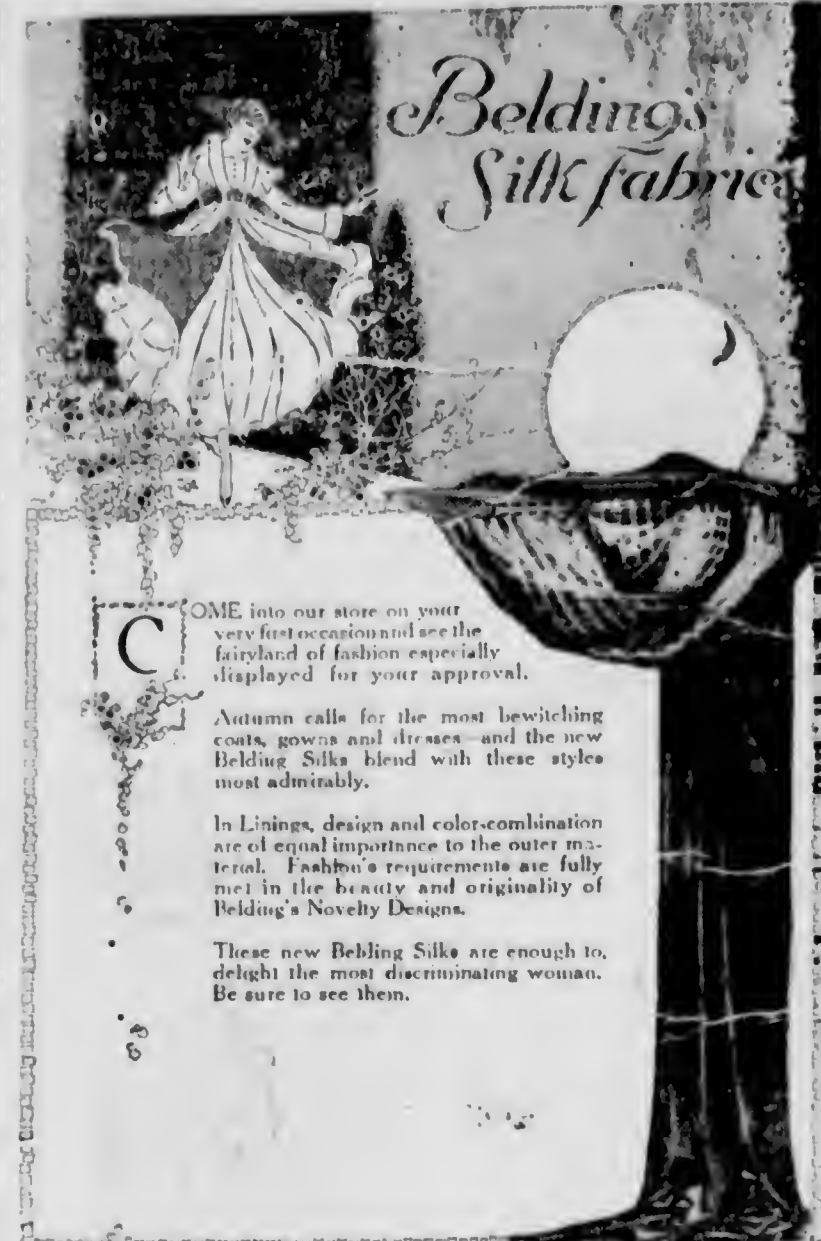

To the Editor of The Evening Sun—Sir: The cause of labor is not best served by a Democratic Tariff, which forces American labor to compete with cheap European labor. "American markets flooded with European-made goods, discrimination against American goods in the markets of Europe," American labor versus European labor, and yet a negative Democratic non-protective Tariff is advocated by American labor men!

Railroad labor will be among the first to suffer by discriminations against commerce with and in America, yet it is most violent in attempting to perpetuate the dangerous Democratic trade policies.

The issue to labor is not the temporal shortening of a working day, but rather the security of work at wages consistent with American standards. His labor forgotten so soon the conditions of unemployment immediately succeeding the Democratic acquisition in 1914 and preceding the outbreak of the European war in August of that year?—Quill, New York, Sept. 21.

It does not seem possible that American workmen have forgotten the condition of unemployment that was brought about by the Underwood Free-Trade Tariff in the first ten months of its operation prior to the European war. Workmen should have better memories than that. Just now, owing to war export business they are quite generally employed; but will they be generally employed when 12,000,000 European soldiers stop fighting and go back to the industries, and when the products of those industries are sent over to the United States in enormous quantities? This is what American workmen should be thinking of when they vote this year.

The vital question for them to consider is to preserve the American market for American labor and industry. That can only be done through the restoration of a Protective Tariff.

ENGLISH NEWS PAPER USE VEILED THREATS

SAV AMERICAN SUBMARINES MAY BE MISTAKEN FOR THOSE OF GERMANY.

London, Oct. 10.—The London afternoon newspapers devoted leading editorials to the visit of the German submarines to the United States. The Pall Mall Gazette says that in the sinking of numerous ships off the American coast the government and people of the United States have thus had an intimate reminder of the character and habits of the craft which had received their hospitality.

The Pall Mall Gazette summarizes the entente allied note regarding the treatment of submarines and continues:

"The entente allies have pointed out in the most friendly spirit some of the consequences which neutrals cannot escape if they lend the resources of their ports to belligerent submarines. If these German craft are to ply their calling off American ports we shall obviously establish a counter patrol and our merchantmen will have to be alert to destroy the pirates whenever the opportunity offers.

"But in this kind of warfare there is little time to ascertain the nationality of submarine craft. Their hunters have to deal with them on sight, and it is by no means improbable that one of America's own submarines straying into the danger zone might inadvertently encounter the fate reserved for a 'boche'."

"It is a question for the American government whether it wishes its Atlantic coast frequented by its own submarines or by those of Germany. It is quite clear in the nature of things there is not room for both."

America Loses to Japan.

Mr. Julian Arnold, American commercial attaché, accredited to Japan, has returned to this country to tell us about trade conditions in the Orient. We shall be glad to learn why it is that Japan has increased her exports to the United States from $92,000,000 in 1913, under our Protective Tariff, to $148,000,000 in 1914, under Democratic Free-Trade, while our exports to her have increased ed from $58,000,000 in 1913 to only $75,000,000 in 1916. Inasmuch as "He kept us out of war," presumably the things Japan sent us were peace products. Inasmuch as Japan is in a state of war, and is manufacturing enormous quantities of war material for Russia, it is fair to assume that a large percentage of our exports to her during 1916 consisted of war products. We cannot keep up our war-order business with Japan forever, but, under the present Tariff law, Japan can increase the value of her peace exportation to us.

Possibly Mr. Arnold may also explain to us why it is that a couple of years ago the United States controlled 21 per cent of the Pacific Ocean freight carrying business, and Japan controlled 33 per cent while to-day the United States controls 2 per cent, and Japan controls 55 per cent.—Wilmington (Del.) Journal.

Japanese Competition.

A hint of what may be expected of Japan as an industrial competitor in the markets of the world is to be found in a statement by Judge H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, who has just returned from an extended visit to the Orient. Judge Gary is quoted as saying:

"The Japanese are going along as if there were no war. They have taken up extensively the manufactures that were stopped in the belligerent countries by the war. Japan is busy making clothing and shoes and is becoming a great commercial factor."

He Wanted Peace.

Two soldiers were conversing. One asked the other what made him enlist.

"Why, I had no wife and children—no one but myself to think of, and, besides, I likes war. But how come you to join the army?"

"Well, you see, I had a wife, and I joined the army because I likes peace."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

HASWELL LOOKS GOOD TO TAYLOR COUNTIES

Hon. John P. Haswell, of Breckinridge county, Republican nominee for Congress in this district, arrived here today for a speaking tour in Taylor county. His appointments will be seen elsewhere in The Leader. Mr. Haswell is a man among men. His high character and splendid ability is attracting the attention of the voters, and a warm feeling is existing for him throughout the district by both Republican and Democrats. He is a clean, honorable and Christian gentleman, his character as such being above reproach.

It is freely predicted that Mr. Haswell will defeat his opponent in the November election. He will address the voters at the court house Saturday afternoon and everybody is invited to come out and hear the next Congressman from the Fourth district.—Taylor County Leader.

In County Court.

Mary Toms and Claude Toms, infants 12 and 9 years of age, respectively, children of Tom Toms, on October 10th were by Judge, at and under the order of the County Court, committed to the Kentucky Children's Home Society.

Osway Malone and Alfred Finley, who were arrested some days since, charged with horse stealing, were given a preliminary hearing on last Monday and as a result the Malone boy was committed to the Kentucky School of Reform and Finley was held to await the action of the grand jury. On his failure to execute bond which was placed at $250.00, Finley was committed to jail.

The Ohio County Fiscal Court at its meeting on last Friday abolished the office of County Road Engineer. The Fiscal Court at above mentioned session allowed claims for plowing on roads to the total amount of $2,580.54. It is estimated that the above sum will amount to but little more than one-half of such claims for the whole year.

Mrs. R. E. Her.

Mrs. R. E. Her, aged about 42, died at her home in Rockport last Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The direct cause of Mrs. Her's death was pneumonia, superinduced by other ailments.

Deceased leaves surviving, her husband, H. E. Her, and five children, whose ages range from 2 to 12 years. Mrs. Her was a daughter-in-law and sister-in-law of our townsman, Mr. Bob Her and Mayor J. C. Her.

STRAY STREAKS.

(By Fluke McFluke.)

Roll Riley and Mut Hunter went to Paducah Tuesday to attend the Kentucky Bankers Association (??). No one here could tell or figure out just why Roll and Mut missed one train at Beaver Dam, until it was learned that the next train going south and the one which they mounted, had on board a Cabaret Troop, and believe me girls the majority of said troop were females, too.

We very respectfully call attention of our efficient Chief of Police to the checker game being operated in Bat's place. Yes sir, when Bob Walker happens to win a game he jars our windows laughing.

Al's gone to Louisville and for his absence at this time he pacified us by promising to fetch us a new pair of gallowes for the ones we broke the other day.

The most ungrateful bunch of men we know of, those who fined the Amalgamated Association of the Sons of Never Toil or Sweat, and just as soon as the garden season is over, drop out on account of the non payment of dues. Dock Baird says he stayed until only he and A. Rial remained. They couldn't elect officers, owing to a tie vote so they both quit.

With Apologies.

I meekly cautioned Roll Riley about mixing too much of that Ohio, Tennessee, Cumberland River water and Pennyroyal of the Purchase variety while in Paducah. It appears that Roll didn't heed my advice and it is reported on good authority that it was seeing Motor Cycles in the middle of the turbulent Tennessee while on that moon light excursion.

Headquarters Busy.

About the busiest place we know of in Hartford is Republican Campaign Headquarters. Mr. L. H. Condit, the genial Chairman of the Campaign Committee, is on the job from early morn until late at night.

More than 100 members have been enrolled in the local Hughes-Fairbanks Club. Much good work is expected of these Republican clubs throughout the county between now and the close of election day. Organize, organize should be the watch word with all good Republicans.

Olaton Republicans Busy.

A Hughes-Fairbanks Club was organized at Olaton Wednesday night, which will prove to be a live wire in the coming election. A big membership was enrolled at this their first meeting. Friday nights were fixed as times for regular meeting of the club. M. S. Patterson was elected president, N. B. White, vice president, and Fred Whittinghill, secretary. Addresses were delivered by Otto C. Martin and others.

Cromwell Republicans Organized.
The Republicans of Cromwell precinct met at Cromwell, on last Saturday night and organized a splendid Hughes-Fairbanks Club. Mr. Z. R. Taylor was elected president and Mr. Charles H. Rogers, secretary. Regular meeting will be held on each Friday night. Addresses were made by Messrs. Heavrin, Leach, Brown, Howard and Martin, all of Hartford.

Farmers' Meeting Saturday.

Notice to farmers of Ohio county. The County Union of the American Society of Equity is called to meet at Hartford, Ky., on Saturday, October 13, 1916, at 10 o'clock a. m. Every local in the county is requested to be represented with a full delegation, as there is much and very important business to transact, especially on the tobacco question. Everybody is invited to attend this meeting and those wishing to deliver their tobacco at Hartford and have not already signed their tobacco, should be there and hear the questions discussed and sign their tobacco with the A. S. of E. the organization that brought relief to the farmer. Come, everybody, and bring your wives. Don't forget the date.

KENTUCKY SYNOD

In Session at Greenville, Rev. Cummins Moderator.

Greenville, Ky., Oct. 11.—The Rev. W. A. Gantfield, president of Central University, Danville, was the chief speaker tonight before the Kentucky Presbyterian Synod, which convened here yesterday. Mr. Gantfield spoke on "The World Challenge to the Church Today." The Rev. Thomas Camphill, of Henderson, was unanimously elected moderator and the Rev. V. P. Merrill, of Lebanon, was elected temporary clerk. About seventy-five members of the Synod are in attendance.

LEXINGTON TO GET BIG OIL REFINERY

Lexington, Oct. 11.—Definite plans for bringing the $2,500,000 refining plant of the Melick Oil Refining Company here were learned tonight, when it was announced that the Board of Commerce had taken an option on fifty acres of land, part of the Webb farm, on the Queen & Crescent railroad, just outside the city limits, to be held in trust for the refining company until certain conditions agreed upon have been fulfilled.

David L. Melick, of the concern, said tonight that it is an assured fact the big plant will be located here, "although there is still much to be done before the people can see the plant in actual operation." Nearly the entire right-of-way for the pipe line has been secured. The company has 10,000 acres of oil land in the Irvine field to be developed, and the plan is to take additional territory so that the plant will take care only of the company's own product. The farm will be surveyed and laid off in a very short time.

H. W. Schrader, of Louisville, is assisting Mr. Melick here in the preliminary work.

ADAMSON LAW RESULTS IN NEW STRIKE TROUBLES

Chicago, October 12.—Reports from various sections of the country indicate clearly that the Adamson Wage Law, which has been menacingly termed "Eight-hour Law" is already bringing about additional labor troubles. Railroad men who were not included in the wage increase are being met with a refusal on the part of the railroads to grant an increase in wages on the ground that the added expense involved by the Adamson Law makes an increase in wages to the great majority and more poorly paid class of railroad employees impossible. St. Paul carmen are approaching a decision to strike, and reports from Kansas City are to the effect that 32,000 members of the six railroad crafts have decided to go on strike as a result of the Adamson Law.

Railroad officials decided at a previous conference they could not grant the demand increase of five cents an hour because of increased operating expense forced upon them by Congress in the Adamson Law. As a counter charge, union workmen ask why they are not entitled to an increase when members of the four allied trainmen's organizations were accorded higher wages.

Stimulating Feeds.

Many stock powders to force hens to lay are put on the market. They have little merit. Hens do not need stimulating food. Hens that will not lay when fed a properly balanced ration are not liable to lay when fed stock powders, unless every bodily requirement is met with proper feed. Common table salt has far more merit than any stock food or poultry powder that can be purchased.

There is very little need for much protein in the mash ration if ample milk is fed. Both beef scrap and cotton seed meal are very high. If a large acreage of peas or soy beans is sown they will take the place to some extent of beef scrap and cotton seed meal. If the beans can be pulled up stalk and all and thrown to the birds during the winter they will be found to be a good feed.

Life of a Fence Post.

The average life of fence posts from the following kinds of wood is: Osage orange, 30 years; locust, 23½; red cedar, 20½; mulberry, 17½; catalpa, 15½; hickory, 15 1-2; chestnut, 14½; white cedar, 14½; tamarack, 10½; cherry, 10 1-2; hemlock, 9; sassafras, 8 9-10; elm, 8½; ash, 8½; red oak, 7; willow, 6½. The number of years that a fence post will last should be considered in the price paid for it. Of ten fences for a few cents additional a much longer-lived post can be secured, making it much cheaper in the long run.

If the bark is left on a fence post it will rot much faster than if it is removed.

It is estimated that the average life of a cement post is forty-eight years and of a steel post thirty years.

Eat Catalpa Leaves.

A few days ago I drove from my home near Simpsonville to Shelbyville. During the drive I passed a number of catalpa trees that had been planted along the fence next to the turnpike. Many of the trees had been stripped of their leaves. Those trees that still had a few leaves on them were covered with long green worms that had a black band down the full length of their backs.

They were eating the leaves quite rapidly, swinging their heads from side to side. They were eating so fast and there were so many of them on the trees that I could hear the grinding sound of their jaws. Would be glad to know what the worm is.

Yours truly, G. O. R.
Answer: The caterpillar described is the young of the catalpa sphinx moth. For a number of years this big caterpillar was not found except from Virginia south into Florida, then westward to Mississippi. Lately it has spread over a much larger range. The worms would probably be better known if they were seen in numbers each season. A few are, of course, to be found each year, but it seems that occasionally they appear in enormous numbers like this season. The editor has in mind an enormous tree in Louisville which is being stripped of its leaves. This is the first time in eight years that the worms have been observed on this tree.

The adult form is a big moth fly, grayish-brown in color and three inches from wing to wing tip. The full life history of this insect with methods of control can be found in Farmer's Bulletin, No. 705, "The Catalpa Sphinx."

Select Seed Corn.

Autumn is the time to prepare for a profitable corn crop the following season. At corn-ripening time drop all other business and select an abundance of seed corn. The process is too important to be conducted incidentally while husking. When selecting seed corn give the process your entire attention. Get the very best that is to be had and preserve it well, and your increased yields will return you more profit than any other work you can do on your farm.

In 13 years' investigations conducted upon Scioto River bottom soil near Piketon, Ohio, with Woodburn White Dent, U. S. Selection 77, the yield was raised from an average of 63 bushels of dry shelled corn from 1901 to 1907 to an average of 75 bushels from 1907 to 1913. The principal influence producing this increase in yield was the selection and the care of seed corn.

The only proper way to select seed corn is from the stalks standing where they grew, as soon as ripe and before the first hard freeze. As soon as the crop ripens go through the field with seed-picking bags and husk the ears from the stalks that have produced the most corn without having any special advantages such as space, moisture, or fertility. Avoid the large ears on stalks standing singly with an unusual amount of space around them. Preference should be given the plants that have produced most heavily in competition with a full stand of less productive plants. In all localities the inherent tendency of the plant to produce heavily of sound, dry, shelled corn is of most importance. Late-maturing plants with ears which are heavy because of an excessive amount of sap should be ignored. Sapiness greatly increases the weight and is likely to destroy the quality. In the Central and Southern States, all other things being equal, short thick stalks are preferable. Short stalks are not so easily blown down and permit thicker planting. Thick stalks are not so easily broken down, and in general are more productive than slender ones. The tendency for corn to produce suckers is hereditary. Other things being equal, seed should be taken from stalks that have no suckers.

The same day seed corn is gathered the husked ears should be put in a dry place where there is free circulation of air and placed in such a manner that the ears do not touch each other. This is the only safe procedure. Good seed is repeatedly ruined because it is thought to be already dry enough when gathered and that the precaution mentioned above is unnecessary. Many farmers believe that their autumn is so dry that such care is superfluous. Seed corn in every locality gathered at ripening time will be benefited by drying as suggested. If left in the husk long after ripening it may sprout or mildew during warm wet weather or become infested with weevils. The vitality of seed is often reduced by leaving it in a sack or in a pile for even a day after gathering. During warm weather, with some moisture in the cobs and kernels, the ears heat or mildew in a remarkably short time. The best possible treatment immediately after gathering is to strike the ears. Ordinarily the best place to hang strings of ears is in an open shed or loft. Wire racks are more convenient, and in the end cheaper, than binder twine. Such racks may be made from electrically welded lawn fencing. The cutting of the fencing into seed-corn racks is done without any waste.

Only during unusually damp weather at seed-gathering time will fire be necessary. If heat is employed in a poorly ventilated room it will do the seed ears more injury than good. If used, the fire should be slow, long continued, and situated below the seed ears, with good ventilation above them.

After husking in the shed or by hanging on the racks for two months the seed ears should be as dry as a bone and contain less than 10 per cent of moisture. They can remain where they dried or be stored in mouse-proof barrels, boxes, or crates during the winter, but in either case they must not be exposed to a damp atmosphere, for they will absorb moisture and be injured. Some farmers place the thoroughly dried seed ears in the center of a wheat bin and fill the bin with loose dry wheat.

In localities where weevils and grain moths injure stored grain, the thoroughly dry seed ears should be stored in very tight mouse-proof receptacles with 1 pound of moth balls or naphthalene inclosed for each bushel of corn. This quantity tightly inclosed with corn will prevent damage from these insects and will not injure the seed. If at any time signs of weevils or grain moths show on the corn, it should be inclosed with carbon bisulphide in practically airtight rooms, bins, boxes, or barrels for 48 hours. The bisulphide should be placed in shallow dishes or pans on top of the seed. One-half pint is sufficient for a box or barrel holding 10 bushels or less. One pound is sufficient for a room or bin 10 feet each way. After fanning the ears must be thoroughly aired, taking care that no fire is present when the fanning box is opened.—U. S. Agricultural Letter.

THE LINOTYPE IN THIRTY YEARS HENCE

Just what the Linotype will be like in 1946 and what it will be doing in the way of speed and adaptability, is a business secret. The editor of The Mergenthaler Linotype News says that he is not prepared to deny that it will be trotting around collecting its own news and advertisement copy.

Reporters and advertising solicitors should not hasten to commit murder or suicide because of this prophecy. By that time advertising will, no doubt, have become so plentiful and advertisers so enthusiastic that the advertising solicitor will be needed more than ever to placate those whose announcements the newspaper is obliged to leave out.

As to the reporters, the world will be ever so much bigger and there will be ever so much more news to write. In 1886 there was no news from Alaska, because there was nobody up there to make any. The Philippines were so newsless that even Manila did not appear as a date line very often in a year. A Guam date line would have been queried by even the most accomplished proof-reader.

It seems hardly a daring assumption that the newspapers of 1946 will contain daily items by wireless from new metropolitan areas in the valleys of the Euphrates and the Tigris, and from brand new towns in deserts now nameless along the branching mileage of a European-Asiatic railroad.

This does not seem to be a very fantastic prediction; the only really fantastic and apparently incredible prophecy that The Lines of Type News can offer is that by 1916 the Tariff Question will have disappeared from the news. That does sound like a whopper.

It seems as though the one opportunity that is ever present is the opportunity to do the wrong thing.—Philadelphia Record.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOB, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Xoyr, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Pittsburg, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 13 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLEMENTINA DUBRIS, 24 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it will be confidential.

RECRUITS NEEDED FOR ARMY OF U. S.

HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CAMPAIGN IS URGED TO FILL UP THE RANKS.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Virtually a house-to-house campaign thruout the Nation is being planned by the War Department to obtain the 100,000 regular army recruits it will be necessary to enlist annually hereafter in order to keep the army up to the strength authorized by Congress in the reorganization and appropriation bills, according to a new recruiting order made public today.

The order says: "To meet demands for the present and the immediate future, the recruiting service must be capable of furnishing annually an average of one recruit per thousand of population, and this result can be accomplished only by canvassing every accessible locality in the United States and establishing thru the aid of available postmasters a conveniently located recruiting agency for such small area."

The new plan contemplates establishing such agencies in every county seat. From these bases recruiting parties will be sent to comb the rural districts. Tables have been prepared to show recruiting officers the exact number of recruits who should be obtained in each county and the number of men of the recruiting service to be sent to each county will be determined by the population. Under the present strength of the recruiting service each member of that service must procure the enlistment of 100 men a year in order to make up the desired total.

TATTOOING ALL THE GO IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Oct. 7.—A craze for tattooing is sweeping England. Both rich and poor have taken up the fad.

King George was one of the pioneers. The king, tattooed with butterflies, dragons and flags on his arms, by a Japanese artist several years ago. Today there is hardly a society man or woman who does not bear some indelible emblem.

When war was declared and the millions of England rushed to the colors a number of tattooists opened little shops in working class districts and started tattooing the names of their customers on their arms for the small sum of six cents. Originally this was done as a precaution, as they could be identified in case anything happened to them at the front. The craze soon spread.husbands had their wives names indelibly punctured on their arms and wrists with such mottoes as "Mary Jane, my dear old wife, always thinks of Jimmy Blades, her soldier husband, Aug. 21, 1916." or "I'll never kiss another girl till I come home to my old Dutch."

Some bashful youths propose through having the names of their girlfriends tattooed on their wrists. This strange method of lovemaking was described by a "professor" who at one time used to practice at Coney Island.

Prick "I love sweet Lily Smith," a youth will say, "on me, where every one can see it." He lays down six cents (three pence) and the job is done.

Then he puts his hand on a counter, or somewhere, where Lily can see it and if she wishes to accept him she comes to the tattoo expert and has "I love brave Jack Jones" tattooed on the back of her hand and lets Jack read it. That breaks the ice and the courtship proceeds.

The "professor" added that the lovers sometimes came back to have the sentence bladed or covered. Over the writing is tattooed the Union Jack or a dragon.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give

CALHOUN SOCIETY BOY KILLS FELLOW GUEST

PARTY ENDS ABRUPTLY WHEN QUARREL RESULTS IN START-LING TRAGEDY.

Calhoun, Ky., Oct. 8.—A house party attended by 100 of McLean county's leading citizens ended abruptly last night when two of the guests, Maus Gibson and Arthur Hayden, became involved in a fight, which resulted in Hayden's death.

While most of the guests were assembled in the home of Hayden's cousin, Claude Whitaker, Gibson and Hayden were in a group of men on the front porch. Gibson accused Hayden of using profane language within hearing of the women. An argument led to a quarrel. The men struggled from the porch and into the yard.

A moment later Gibson entered the house and declared he had cut Hayden. He carried a small pocket knife in his hand and pointed to a bruise on his forehead, inflicted, he said, by brass knuckles used by Hayden. Guests rushed to the yard. Hayden was dead. His jugular vein was severed.

Gibson went to a telephone and called Sheriff W. A. Shackelford of his act, and a short time later was arrested and brought here and held in jail on a charge of murder. His plea is self-defense.

Whittaker's home is about three miles north of Calhoun. Both Gibson and Hayden were among the best known of the young farmers of McLean county. They were good friends. Their farms are located within a short distance of each other and the two men went to Whitaker's party together. Witnesses said both men had been drinking.

Hayden was 23 years old. Following the fight his body was taken into the house and a coroner's inquest was held at once. The verdict was that he had come to his death by a knife wound inflicted by Gibson, but the jury was non-committal as to the responsibility for the trouble.

Gibson is 20 years old. He would not discuss the trouble today further than to say that Hayden had struck him a severe blow with the brass knuckles and that he acted in self-defense. Few incidents in recent years have aroused such excitement.

The Real Oriental Menace.

One day last week The Chronicle printed a letter from Paris, furnished by the Associated Press, in which the writer said he "was astonished to find great numbers of Russian soldiers clothed from head to foot in uniforms made in Japan, not only the tunic and trousers but even the leggings. They carried on their shoulders Japanese guns. Their cartridge belts were fitted with cartridges made in Japan. Their leather belts and buckles were from Japan, and the stout hobnail shoes they wore were from hides gathered in Korea and made into shoes in Japan."

Just why the facts stated should have occasioned surprise it would be difficult to tell. It certainly was not for lack of information on the subject. As early as December 13, 1895, the San Francisco Chronicle published an article filling six pages or more of the paper under the title: "The Orientals as Manufacturing Competitors." A few weeks later it was reprinted in its entirety as United States Senate Document 311, Fifty-fourth Congress, first session.

It was devoted in the main to describing the industrial growth of Japan. Its opening sentence: "The Chronicle for several years past has been calling attention to the threats of Oriental competition," indicated its scope. The article had a curious reception at the East, where the knowledge of what was doing in Japan was principally derived from Gilbert and Sullivan's charming opera, the "Mikado." Editors were greatly amused at the suggestion that the people we compelled to open their ports so that we might sell them the products of our factories should be regarded as competitors, and not a few of them tarred with the Free-Trade brush openly charged that the statements made, widely, by the way, were all properly credited, were fragments of Protectionist imagination.

There was much prophecy in the article, but it was of the uninspired sort. It was all based on observation of things accomplished by the Japanese and warranted the assumption that the real menace from that quarter would not be of the sort which Woolsey depicted in his book, but would be made with the weapons of industrialism.

The nature of the growing export trade of Japan proves conclusively that the writer of twenty-one years ago knew what he was talking about, and the declaration he then made,

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure
Made from Cream of Tartar
NO ALUM—NO PHOSPHATE

that the Western world would have to interpose the barrier of Protection to prevent being swamped by cheap Oriental labor, was not so wide of the mark after all.—San Francisco Chronicle.

AMBASSADOR GERARD SILENT AS TO VISIT

New York, Oct. 10.—James W. Gerard, American Ambassador to Germany, upon his arrival here today, declined either to affirm or deny published reports that he was returning to the United States on a peace mission on behalf of the Emperor of Germany.

Mr. Gerard's attention was called to a story which appeared this morning in the New York World to the effect that his errand was to inform the administration that a renewal of submarine activity is being considered by Germany in a manner which might threaten German-American relations. Mr. Gerard, after quickly glancing through this story, said:

"You don't see me quoted anywhere in it, do you?"

To questions put to the Ambassador by reporters who met him at quarantine he replied:

"It is useless to question me, boys; I cannot say a word."

"The length of my stay here is not yet determined, neither have I made any plans," he added. "I expect to go to Washington, but when I do not know, am glad to be home though."

COUNTY WITHOUT ANY ONE TO SERVE PAPERS

Greensburg, Ky., Oct. 9.—The office of Sheriff of Green county has been vacant for nearly forty years on account of the railroad bonded indebtedness. The Circuit Judge, during this time has appointed an Elisor to execute court papers, but now the Elisor has resigned and none appointed in his place and now there is no officer in the county to make arrests or to execute court papers.

There is a large accumulation of such papers in the Clerk's office to be executed. No taxes have been collected in the county for three years as none can be collected, unless taxes are also collected to pay the railroad debt, which now is about $350,000. An effort is being made to raise the money by subscriptions to satisfy the debt.

Transylvania.—According to Berlin the Rumanians are retreating. The Germans recaptured Toerzburg, fifteen miles southwest of Kronstadt.

Serbia.—In considerable force the Serbians have crossed the Cerna River into Serbia and captured Skochivir and other positions.

Gallia.—Considerable hard fighting has taken place in the region west of Lutsk, but the results are clouded by contradictory reports.

Somme.—Violent reciprocal bombardments are in progress, and infantry attacks have taken place.

Submarine Issue.—Submarines of belligerent Powers visiting American waters will be accorded the treatment which is their due as warships under international law. This fact has been made known to the Entente Allied Powers by the State Department at Washington in answer to an identical memorandum from Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan asking that submarines of every character be prevented from availing themselves of the use of neutral waters and that such vessels entering neutral harbors be interned.

To a seemingly implied warning in the Entente Allied note that American submarines might be mistaken by Allied warships for enemy submarines, the State Department announces that responsibility for the failure of a warship to distinguish between submarines of neutrals and belligerent nationality "must rest entirely upon the negligent Power."

Western Front.—In fighting south of the Somme River, the French troops captured the village of Bovent, the north and west outskirts of Abailcourt, and also the greater part of the Chaumes wood. Prisoners to the number of 1,200 were taken in the operation, according to the official communication.

Notice in Bankruptcy.
In the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Kentucky.
In the matter of Flavins Owen Baker, a bankrupt.
On this 10th day of October A. D. 1916, on considering the petition of the aforesaid bankrupt for discharge, filed on the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1916, it is ordered by the court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1916, before said court at Louisville in said district, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or as near thereto as practicable, and that notice thereof be published one time in Harbottle's Republic, a newspaper printed in said district, and that all known creditors and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Witness the Honorable Walter Evans, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, at Owensboro, in said district, on the 10th day of October, A. D. 1916.

Business Failures.

Bradstreet's of September 30 reports the business failures in the United States for the week ending September 23 and for corresponding weeks in previous years, as follows:

Week ending Weeks Cor'p'ding
Sept. 23, Sept. 21—to this week—
1916 1915 1914 1913 1912

Middle 64 80 66 104 90 97

New England 24 29 36 16 24 23

Southern 73 77 69 64 33 60

Western 54 71 57 62 40 54

Northwestern 33 27 25 15 15 12

Far Western 30 17 23 26 23 22

Total 275 301 276 290 230 268

In spite of war export prosperity the commercial failures in the week ending September 23, 1916, were more numerous than in the same week of 1915, when a Protective Tariff was in operation.

SEEK RICHES IN NEW POTASH FIELDS OF CUBA

Havana, Cuba, Oct. 7.—Something like the old-fashioned American gold rush has occurred in Cuba since it was noted about that ten thousand acres of land 100 miles east of here have a rich percentage of soluble potash. Americans have been prominent among the "get-rich-quick" questers who have hurried to the district in question, seeking to buy, lease or in some other way acquire an interest in the new "Eldorado."

The Cuban department of agriculture found a sample picked up at random of the tract to assay 12 1-2 per cent soluble potash. An assay made in the United States of a sample is said to have showed 24 per cent and another 40 per cent. The salt found is oxid of potassium, while the chemical obtained from the famous German mines is chloride of potash.

Enormous quantities of volcanic breccia seems to be the source of the potash. It appears that the enormous volcanic heat separated the potash from the alumina. At the eastern end of this volcanic outflow is a manganese mine, while immediately south has been discovered a flow of oil with a specific gravity of .82, which is practically gasoline. The discovery of Cuba's potash field was due to the fact that the ordinary scrub palm, which commonly grows 20 to 30 feet high, here grows 100 feet and over. A Chicago concern which has a fertilizer plant at Matanzas is said to have an option on the whole 10,000 acres.

It Is Often This Way.

In our account of the Livingston-Hoff wedding in last week's issue our reporter intended to state that "after a brief wedding trip the newly married couple would make their home at the Old Manse," but through a typographical error which escaped the proofreader, and which we regret exceedingly, "Old Manse" was made to read "Old Man's." We do not regret to read "Old Man's." We do not regret to read "Old Man's."

Making Up Payroll.

State Superintendent V. D. Gilbert is certifying the October distribution of the State school fund, amounting to $550,755.49, of which $448,078.26 goes to the counties and $102,677.23 to the cities for the pay of teachers.

THE WORLD OVER.

Two-thirds of the world's correspondence is in the English language.

Old rags are used in making imitation leather.

Sheep dogs are free from tax in the United Kingdom.

One ton of whale blubber will yield 200 gallons of oil.

He Dives For His Fish.

Jake Cullman, a semi-professional ball player, is also a fisherman and thereby hangs a tale. Yesterday Cullman took a fishing trip to Cedar Lake, but did not have much luck. Before leaving for home Cullman decided to take a dip and while diving near the old mill, collided with a big pickeret. The fish, stunned by the blow, rose to the surface and was captured by Cullman.

Cullman was nearly stunned by the shock of the collision with the fish, but recovered in time to make a captive of the pickeret.

The truthfulness of this story is vouched for by Cullman, who displayed the fish in a store window here. The fish weighed 22 pounds.

Quaker Quips.

Many a man has stratched his eyes looking out for number one.

You may generally stop a woman's tears by telling her crying will make her nose red.

The fellow who marries for money is more intent on winning a girl's hand than her heart.

By the time a man is 40, if he doesn't get rid of his conceit it has become chronic.

King Otto Dead.

London, Oct. 12.—Former King Otto, of Bavaria, who has been insane for many years, has died suddenly, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, quoting a Berlin official announcement. The mad King died at Fuerstenried Castle, near Munich, where he has been confined since 1873.

King Otto was born on April 27, 1848, and succeeded his brother, Ludwig II, in 1886. Ludwig II. was also insane and drowned himself in Starnberg Lake. King Otto was deposed on November 5, 1913, and was succeeded by the present monarch, Ludwig III, formerly regent.

Injured in Runaway.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 12.—In a runaway on Wednesday afternoon in the city, W. M. Barnett was thrown from his wagon and sustained injuries which may prove fatal.
